RIBA South CPD & Events 2008

6 February 2008 – Party Wall and the Architect – Malcolm Lelliott, FFPWS, PPASI, MRICS, FCIOB, Director of Faculty of Party Wall Surveyors and Board Examiner and Ken Whittick, FFPWS, ACI Arb. (Retired) Past President of the Faculty of Party Wall Surveyors, RIBA Practice consultant for Party Wall matters, Oxford, 2-5pm.

A complete interpretation of the duties for those involved in Party Wall matters.
“The Faculty of Party Wall Surveyors is an examining body for professionals involved in matters concerning Party walls and associated works that architects should be aware. Through the examining process it is evident that a number of reoccurring mistakes are being made in the preparation of Awards”

This half-day seminar for architects and designers outline the duties under the Party Wall Etc. Act 1996 and provides information on the interpretation of the Act in an attempt to reduce mistakes. Places are still available.

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

12 February 2008 - Building Regulations – Part L & F – Owen Edwards, BYL, The Guildhall, Winchester, 2-5pm.

Places are still available.

This seminar is designed to keep architects and other professionals in the built environment up-to-date with the latest developments and changes to the Building Regulations.

Owen Edwards will provide an update on Building Regulations related issues including:

- Part F
- Parts L2a+L2b (experiences one year on)
- Code for Sustainable Homes

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

27 February 2008 – Awkward Questions to ask your Engineer and Building Inspector – Nick Maclean, Civil & Structural Engineer, Oxford, 2-5pm.

Using examples, Nick Maclean will discuss ways of reducing the quantity of material used in building, thereby reducing energy consumption and decreasing the negative impact the buildings have on the environment. He will provide examples of structural abuse and present a list of the awkward questions to ask your engineers and reasonable answers to be expected, together with the unreasonable commonplace answers to be rejected. He will be using specific pictorial examples of things that are far bigger than they need to be, and demystify some structural components such as 'ring beams' so that their usage, and magnitude, is more appropriate.

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

27 February 2008– CDM Regulations, Robert Meardon, HM Inspector of Health & Safety; Jan Andresen, HM Specialist Inspector of Health & Safety (Construction), Milton Keynes, 5-8pm. This seminar is designed to keep architects and other professionals in the built environment up-to-date with the latest developments and changes to Health & Safety regulations.

The main content of the presentation will deal with 'Changes from old CDM Regulations to new CDM Regulations' and will be targeted primarily at designers and their responsibilities.

The following topics will also be discussed in this seminar:

- What is HSE? The role and powers of Inspector
- Industry accident/ill-health records
- Development of health & safety legislation, from specific hazards to duty holders
- HSE's strategies for interventions
- Priority topics for elimination/reduction of risks -what can you do?
- Case studies

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

5 March 2008 – Hot Topics in Fire Engineering – Adam Taylor, BYL, Principal Fire Engineer, Reading, 2-5pm.

New legislative requirements and best practice in fire engineering:

This seminar is designed to keep architects and other professionals in the built environment up-to-date with the latest developments and changes to the Fire Regulations.

Adam Taylor will provide an update on

- Fire engineering fundamentals and their application
- New and upcoming legislative changes effecting fire (Regulatory Reform Fire Safety Order, Building Regulations amendments)
- New and upcoming guidance documents (BB100, DD9999, water mist)
- Best practice fire engineering design and common problems (not lobbying stairs, not leaving sufficient vent area in atrium roof)

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

11 March 2008 – Renewable Energy Systems – Tony Almond, BSc IEng, Planet Energy Solutions, Milton Keynes, 5-8pm.

The renewable energy systems subject is very wide and technically complex.

Some concepts such as refrigerant thermodynamics, adiabatic heat transfer and solar photovoltaic technology could justify a seminar of their own.

The seminar will aim to:

- confirm the importance of incorporating renewables into modern building designs

- provide an overview and explanation the characteristics of each renewable energy technology now available
- consider their suitability
- consider their capabilities
- consider their limitations
- and aim to 're-align' a few myths that some may hold.

The seminar will be split into two distinct halves....

- Those LZC / Renewable energy systems relating to Heat generation.
- Those LZC / Renewable energy systems related to Electricity generation.

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

13 March 2008 – Making Low Carbon Homes a Reality – Gavin Hodgson, BRE Environment; John Willoughby Registered NHER Assessor and Trainer EcoHomes Assessor, Approved consultant for Action Energy Design Advice Scheme, Reading, All-day event. The Energy Saving Trust shows housing designers how to design new housing and refurbish existing properties to accomplish the government 2050 carbon reduction targets.

Following on from a successful series of events last year, introducing designers to the revised Part L regulations, the Energy Savings Trust (EST) has partnered with RIBA and CIAT to update housing designers with the knowledge required to design and deliver low-carbon housing.

By attending this EST one day workshop you will receive guidance on how to achieve higher energy efficiency requirements set out for new-builds within the Code for Sustainable Homes. The event will include sizing and choice of renewable technologies, suitable components and design techniques. You will also have the opportunity to model different solutions for new-build housing using SAP software.

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

18 March 2008 – Building Visit to Drayton Street Housing Project, Winchester with Paul Phasey of architecture plb, 2-4pm.

As part of the drive for greater utilisation of brownfield sites within urban boundaries, architecture plb was commissioned to consider the development of this constrained backland site previously occupied by garages. The site is within a garden suburb, built in the 1930's and award winning in its day. A2 Winchester set a brief for 11 family houses, providing a mix of 3 bedroom and 2 bedroom accommodation. Other considerations were to provide an attractive public realm whilst maintaining privacy and light to the existing gardens of the neighbouring houses.

26 March 2008 – Inclusive Environments through the use of Design and Access Statements – Professor Keith Bright, MSC FRICS FBEng MCIQB NRAC, Oxford 2-5pm. Design and Access Statements are now an important part of all planning applications and an important recommendation for applications seeking building regulations approval.

But ...what are they? when should they be used? what should they contain?

How can they be used in conjunction with guidance such as the Approved Document to Part M (2004) and BS8300 to achieve accessibility and inclusion for all users whilst maximising the opportunities for creativity and design freedom?

What is the role of the client in providing an inclusive environment, and what role does a statement play in the management of an environment when in use? This talk will consider all of these issues.

This CPD seminar is compliant with the RIBA CPD Core Curriculum.

- Project Management
- Building Regulations Update
- Design for Access
- Fire Regulations
- Damp & Decay
- Awkward Questions to ask your Engineer
- Sustainable Design

The RIBA South CPD Series

The CPD Series exists to assist members in meeting their training requirements by providing a yearly structured programme of seminars tailored to meet the needs of the architect and other construction professionals. In addition to the main programme, additional events will be organised as important and relevant issues arise. The current annual subscription for RIBA & CIAT members of £210 equates to a fee of just £35 for each half-day seminar giving exceptional value for money in the current training and development marketplace. These seminars would cost £348 on a pay-as-you-go basis.

CPD Series membership

Membership is open to all construction professionals within the South region. Membership runs for a twelve-month period that may commence at any time in the year. Membership is transferable within the subscriber's own office and additional guests can attend for a discounted rate. Two sole practitioners or small practices may take a combined season ticket and share the costs and benefits of membership amongst a maximum of three RIBA members.

The CPD Series provides a structured approach to training and development for architects and other construction professionals to enable them to fulfil their development obligations. The following benefits are offered to all members:

- A free place at each of 6 events in your area (Reading, Oxford or Winchester/Southampton + Milton Keynes: CPD topics may vary)
- Free documentation and refreshments at each event
- Discounted price of £40 for one additional guest
- Free transfer of your place to another CPD Series/Seminar within the Region
- Complementary quarterly CPD Update
- Discounted rates at additional regional CPD events
- 2 small practices can share the benefits
- 18 hours accredited training

If you would like to join please email amanda.hockley@inst.riba.org for a membership form.

RIBA South CPD Club 2007

This Club is being discontinued in favour of the CPD Series. If you are already a member you can continue until the end of your subscription. However, you might like to transfer to the CPD Series. If you would like to transfer please contact Amanda for more details amanda.hockley@inst.riba.org

Awards

RIBA Awards 2008

The RIBA is calling for entries for the 2008 RIBA Awards. They will follow the pattern newly laid down in 2007 of RIBA Awards that are judged and presented locally, with RIBA National Awards judged and presented nationally. The RIBA Stirling Prize shortlist of six is selected following further visits to winners of the RIBA National Awards and of RIBA European Awards for buildings in the rest of the EU. This year to qualify for Stirling the building must be by any RIBA member if it is in the UK or by a British-based practice if it is elsewhere in the European Union.

The Lubetkin Prize shortlist of three is drawn from winners of RIBA International Awards for buildings in the rest of the world.

Entries must be sent to the office of the nation or region in which the building is situated by 21 February 2008. Entry fees and criteria are as per last year. For full details please go to www.architecture.com or email awards@inst.riba.org

RIBA South Planning Group

RIBA South would like to welcome Philip Waddy as the new Chairman of the RIBA South Planning Group. Philip and RIBA South would like to thank David Ashe, former Regional Chairman, for chairing the regional planning group. Philip hopes more architects in the region will join the group and contribute to the lively and informative meetings.

Voice your views on Planning

Get on well with the Planners? Do your schemes sail through the planning system? Is your local Planning Authority helpful, efficient and a pleasure to work with? Do Planners encourage you to come forward with innovative designs?

If the answer to these questions is 'yes', then read no further. If the answer to one or more is 'no', then why not join the RIBA South Planning Group and share knowledge and expertise with fellow professionals?

The Group meets four times a year and is a forum for like minded Architects to discuss issues of concern in the planning system. We lobby local and regional government and provide technical back-up in support to members on planning issues. The Planning Group also monitor impending changes in planning legislation and warn members through the regional newsletter of forthcoming changes in legislation which may affect practitioners.

Current topics of interest in the planning world are: Clause 150 of the Planning Bill and APP1 – D Day Approaches

Planning Department User Groups

If you are interested in getting involved, please contact the local authority or call your regional officer directly to have your name and details added to their database.

Reading Borough Council

Local Development Framework – Site Allocations Development Plan Document, Issues & Options Stage; Candidate Development Sites & Designations

Reading Borough Council is preparing the first stage of its Site Allocations Development Plan Document (DPD) as part of its Local Development Framework (LDF).

Developers, landowners, elected members, community groups, members of the public and any other interested parties are invited to tell the Council about potential candidate development sites for development or re-use in the Borough.

Deadline for submission of candidate development sites, and views on designations is Friday 15 February 2008.

Further details and additional information on the LDF can be obtained by contacting the LDF Team on 01189 390286 or email ldf@reading.gov.uk or visit www.reading.gov.uk. Any other queries, contact Alison Amoah on 0118 939 0900(ext. 4293)

Education

RIBA and London Met to Pilot New Returners Course

The Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA) and London Metropolitan University (London Met) are to pilot a new course in May 2008, aimed at qualified architects who are returning to practice after a career break.

The week-long course is specifically designed to meet the needs of the students, particularly focusing on boosting their confidence and improving their technical knowledge, enabling them to successfully re-enter the profession.

The course forms part of a number of initiatives being piloted by the RIBA, which aim to regain talented architects to strengthen and broaden the profession through greater diversity. The pilot actively aims to reengage women architects who have been on maternity leave, as a response to the findings of the RIBA/University of the West of England research on why women in particular leave the profession.

Contact Anne Markey for more information about the course on 020 7133 2716 or email a.markey@londonmet.ac.uk To download a booking form for the course, visit: www.londonmet.ac.uk/architecture/department/asd-projects/

British Architectural Library announces free public access

The British Architectural Library, located at the Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA), has announced that members of the public will be able to access the library completely free of charge from 2 January 2008.

The largest and most comprehensive resource in Europe for research and information on all aspects of architecture, the British Architectural Library was established in 1834 at the founding of the RIBA. Since that date it has been almost wholly funded by RIBA members. In October 2005 it was recognised as having outstanding national and international importance under the Designation Scheme by The Museums, Libraries and Archives Council (MLA).

For more information on the RIBA and library opening times go to www.architecture.com

Tuesday Late Night opening at 66 Portland Place

Opening times for the galleries/exhibitions have been extended to 21:00 on Tuesdays at RIBA HQ, 66 Portland Place, London W1B 1AD.

The late night opening will increase accessibility to HQ for architects and other visitors who usually finish work too late to get to Portland Place by 18:00 hours and cannot visit at weekends. The bookshop will also open later [beyond the usual Tuesday closure of 18:30] and the café will also remain open until 21:00. The Library already opens later on Tuesdays.

Work placement for French Students

Mrs Theveniaux teaches English in a vocational school in Bourges in the centre of France. Some of her students are studying architecture and must do a training period of 4 weeks next June in England if they want to pass their exam. She is urgently looking for a work placement for 2 students (2 boys aged 18) in an architect's practice.

During their work placement they are not required to be paid and their school provides travel costs. The placement would last 4 weeks in June 2008. For more information contact Mrs Christine THEVENIAUX: c.thev@wanadoo.fr
